Army Blue Cloth Suits.

WORTH $15 FOR $10.

A LARGE woolen cloth manufacturer in the East, on account of a strike, failed to deliver on time a large quantity of extra heavy Blue Army Cloth for the United States Army, and had the entire lot of many thousand yards thrown on his hands, and being in need of ready money, he accepted an offer of

HALF-PRICE

from a large clothing manufacturer for the entire lot. We have just received about seventy-five Men's Suits made of this cloth, and are offering them at the remarkably low price of $10.00.

Sizes 35-44.

We also are having some of the same cloth made into Men's Overcoats and will receive them in about 10 days. This is truly an opportunity to buy winter clothing that can hardly be worn out, that will shed water like a rubber coat and is as heavy and warm as cloth can be made, and in this time of high prices for all woolen goods, it makes it all the greater bargain.

United States Army Shoes.

Don't forget the U. S. Army Shoes we are selling at $2.50. Six hundred pairs were sold in one week.

OFFICIALS OF TWO ROADS

Two Special Trains Pass Through Hopkinsville Enroute to Nashville.

I. C. AND SOUTHERN.

Important Meeting at Capital of Tennessee and Banquet to Be Given.

A special train passed through Hopkinsville Sunday afternoon enroute to Nashville, with President Stuyvesant Fish and Second Vice President J. T. Harahan, of the Illinois Central, and a number of the traffic officials of that road. The train arrived here over the I. C. and left over the T. C. for Nashville. Another special train of officials passed through here over the same road early this morning enroute to the capital of Tennessee. In this party were J. C. Van Blarcom, president of the Tennessee Central; J. W. Bailey, United States Senator from Texas; N. C. Chapman, formerly vice president of the Tennessee Central, and still a stockholder, and Estell McHenry, of St. Louis, who was one of the first capitalists to invest money in the Tennessee Central.

This party will meet the other officials and spend the day with them. Tonight they will all attend a big banquet at the Maxwell House. A large party of officials of the Southern road are also in Nashville, and the three parties of officials will go over the terminals of the property recently purchased by them there. The American says that no sensational announcements are expected from any members of the party, as it has already been stated that the two roads, whether jointly or not, are to invest about $2,000,000 in Nashville, and it is presumed that this money will be spent for real estate, tracks, shops, passenger and freight stations.

The general entertainment committee of Nashville extended an invitation to M. H. Smith, president of the L. & N.; Maj. John W. Thomas, president of the N. C. & St. L., and Maj. E. C. Lewis, president of the L. & N. Terminal Co. at Nashville, to attend the banquet. Plates will be laid for two hundred guests.

FIRE AT CROFTON.

Barn and Contents Destroyed Saturday Night.

Crofton, Ky., Oct. 30.—A large barn belonging to Mr. D. T. Cranor, of this place, was destroyed by fire Saturday night about 10 o'clock. The building contained twenty-one thousand pounds of hay, which had been placed in the barn Saturday afternoon, and this was also consumed. It is not known how the fire originated, but Mr. Cranor is of the opinion that it was the work of an incendiary. The barn was worth about $300 and the hay $100. The building was insured for $100.

INDEPENDENT TELEPHONES.

Definite Merger Plans Are At Last Perfected.

ROCHESTER & ST. LOUIS

Two Equipment Plants Of $6,000,000 Capital Each.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 28.—Preparations of a definite character were made last night in St. Louis for inaugurating the operative plans of the United States Independent Telephone Company, the national corporation, with a capital stock of $50,000,000, which was recently organized to conduct a national telephone business throughout the United States. The arrangements, as now decided upon, contemplate the immediate building of a large telephone equipment plant in St. Louis and the enlargement of the present apparatus manufacturing establishment in Rochester, N. Y.

The significance of this decision is that the company is taking measures to install an independent telephone system in New York City, to consolidate the chief long distance telephone lines of the United States, to extend the lines which it already controls in other large cities besides New York and to facilitate the practical union of all independent telephone systems. The company has taken the position that, to bring about these results, the first essential is the capacity to furnish sufficient equipment to enable and encourage independent telephone competition.

Two Equipment Plants.

The Rochester and St. Louis equipment manufacturing plants will make the apparatus. The Rochester factory will supply New York and the East and the St. Louis factory will supply the cities of the States of the West. The Rochester company is capitalized at $5,000,000 and employs 2,500 men. Its investment will be increased, its buildings enlarged, its capacity doubled and its force of workmen raised to at least 5,000. The St. Louis concern will be of the same size as the present Rochester plant, having a capital of at least $6,000,000 and a force of at least 2,500 workmen.

Standardizing Plan.

In connection with this action two other decisions were reached. The conference committee, representing St. Louis, Kansas City, Indianapolis, Louisville, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, took steps toward standardizing the equipment on lines of these cities. Officials of the Rochester, Indianapolis, Indiana and St. Louis independent companies met and determined upon a new policy.

Banquet To Visitors.

Breckinridge Jones, vice president of the Mississippi Valley Trust Company, who is one of the most active promoters of the enterprise, tendered a banquet to-night to the visiting capitalists and telephone officials at the St. Louis Club. More than fifty guests were assembled.

Addresses were delivered by Thomas W. Finucane, of Rochester, N. Y., president of the United States Independent Telephone Company; William H. Page, Jr., of New York, general counsel of the company; James B. Hoge, of Cleveland, O., chairman of the company's Conference Committee; Edward Hadden, vice president of the Commonwealth Trust Company, of St. Louis; J. D. Powers, of Louisville, president of the United States Trust Company and director of the Home Telephone Company, and Mayor Rolla Wells.

REVOLUTION RUNS RAMPANT IN RUSSIA

Crisis Close at Hand and the Government Powerless to Act.

ANARCHY PREVAILS.

Even Loyalty of the Imperial Guards Is Questioned.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—While yesterday passed quietly, without bloodshed in the Russian capital, and while the city is outwardly calm, developments all indicate that a crisis is imminent. All the streets are filled with troops, and re-inforcements are now pouring in from Finland. The government seems utterly powerless to cope with the situation, and many calm observers seem seriously to believe that the present regime is tottering to its fall.

Differences have developed between Count Witte and Gen. Troppoff, and while the precious moments pass the Emperor, surrounded by the imperial family, remains shut up at Peterhof, seemingly still hesitating as to what course to pursue.

Grave doubts are expressed as to whether even the Imperial Guard can now be relied upon. Discontent is rife. The situation cannot well be exaggerated. With the present decision of the Emperor the Government has neither a head nor a policy to meet the crisis, and things seem to be drifting towards anarchy. The revolutionists openly declare that the Government has ceased to exist and that nothing remains to his majesty except to abdicate. With a firm hand at the helm and a rational policy, however, all might quickly be changed.

The strikers, apparently, are without funds, and must soon be exhausted, as was made evident by the action of the Strike Committee here practically being forced to hold up the city for food.

Wounds, Bruises and Burns.

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts in this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any further danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up to date druggists at Hopkinsville.

A 5 per cent. increase in wages was given textile operatives.

Nothing to Fear.

The question of injurious substance in medicines which has been agitating minds of many people, does not concern those who use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mothers need not have hesitancy in continuing to give it to their little ones, as it contains absolutely nothing injurious. This remedy is not only perfectly safe for small children, but is a medicine of great worth and merit. It has a world wide reputation for its cures of coughs, colds, croup and can always be relied upon. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up to date druggists at Hopkinsville.

Caution!

Persons when traveling should exercise care in the use of drinking water. As a safeguard it is urged that every traveler secure a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy before leaving home, to be carried in the hand luggage. This may prevent distressing sickness and annoying delay. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up to date druggists at Hopkinsville.

THE STORY OF ARKANSAH.

Across the wooded border rode a cavalier of France.
A ballad on his hearted lips,
A rose upon his cheek,
Behind him rode a soldier
Who dreamed of wine and women,
And built a villa in the west,
Beside a muddy stream.

He fought the French and the English,
The Spanish and the Indian,
The dark-skinned forest shades withdrew,
The sun increased in power,
For every thing that he met
Along his way was won.

Two girls of wine and womanhood,
And two of wine he won
His name has vanished like the dew
From the face of the world,
But still his deed lives in
The every field he won.

He found no share of heaven above,
This brave, unselfish man,
And made his life a dream.

The Legs of the Honorable Cat

By CLARENCE L. BROWNELL

JUDGE IPPAI NIBHI lived in Japan in the good old days when Japan was really Japan. He had to depend upon the kindness of cats for the "honorable subjects of the shogun" were able to create—everything from murder and manslaughter to mistaken marriages. Once he had to decide upon a cat. It happened thus:

Mr. Mountain (Oyama San), Mr. Pine-tree (Omatsu), Mr. Forest (Hayashi San), Mr. Temple (Otsu San) had gone into partnership. They were rich merchants. Oyama San was a small bit of a man, even for a Japanese. Omatsu was fat and round like a ball. Hayashi San was like a bean pole, and Otsu San had such a small head, one wondered where it went in. They lived in a village near Nagoya, where the golden dolphin stand on their heads on the ridge poles of the houses. The village was in place, and considering the size of the village they did an excellent business. Just as they in this country folk speculate in rice, they had a produce exchange there, or a rice exchange, long before anyone in this country thought of that sort of thing.

Being partners, they belonged to the same guild—an ancient one that clung to customs that dated back to nobody knew when. Among these customs one had to do with dress. If the market against the members of this guild in winter time, they appeared on the streets in the gayest of summer costumes. If the market went wrong in summer, they walked about muffled in furs to their eyes, thick clothes on their heads, and their bodies wrapped in gray. The market went wrong. No one has been able to trace the origin of this custom, but only recently has it disappeared. Probably were one to scrutinize carefully he would find traces of it even to-day.

Well, one summer day the market had behaved badly, and the four partners, dressed in street clothes, were looking like balls of cotton on parade. Hayashi San led the procession. He looked like two bales, one on top of the other. Omatsu came next. He looked like a cotton pyramid. Otsu San followed, looking like nothing but a ball of wool; and Oyama San brought up the rear looking like a little Omatsu San.

As they drew near the exchange, where the trouble of the day had come about, Oyama San saw a cat. He roiled towards it, saying: "What the very thing. Now we shall have good luck."

"What is it?" asked the three in front, through their wraps and perspiration.

"The cat," replied the panting Oyama.

"And what of the cat? There are many cats. We see cats every day and hear them every night."

"It is true indeed, augustly honorably true."

"Well, then?" All were exceedingly warm and not patient, probably, but Oyama San managed to puff sufficiently to explain.

"Behold, the cat has four colors, brown, and black, and white, and gray; and at the corner of the house within. On reaching the exchange to the house, Oyama San, in a voice loud with passion, called out: 'August partner! Behold! The cat! He who is the master of the house to pardon him for venturing to approach—this is theoretically no means that—practically, he is doing no more than letting the servant know that he was there—knocking with his voice, so to speak; there are neither 'no' or 'yes' nor 'knockers' in Japan. In this lack they are neither American nor English.'

There was a reply to Oyama's August partner. It sounded like the word "lick," long drawn out: "Hat-l-i-k-i-l-i."

Then the door slid to one side, and the face of a maid appeared through its slit. "Oyama San, your august partner is waiting." "August partner?" asked the honorable cat, sitting at the honorable gate, as gustly belonged to the honorable house.

The maid replied that it honorably did.

Would the honorable possessor deign to dispose augustly of it? queried Oyama San.

The maid honorably did not know, but she volunteered to inquire and the master of the house, who knew the cat, told his son, who was the owner of the cat, to give her up. "His would not hear of a money recompense for the cat, but the four bought the cat enough sweets and oranges to keep him topped for a month, besides lilies and stuff, and a beautiful battle-ship and stuff. To these gifts in kind the father made no objection. Indeed, he himself was not impartial to sweets and oranges.

Oyama San being the smallest of the four, naturally felt, as little men do, that he was the one who could manage the whole affair rightly. He divided the cost of the gifts into four equal parts and assessed each partner its value of a part. Then he took the cat to the warehouse of the four, where he had a solemn meeting.

The cat sat in their midst, as they seemed to like the warehouse, for she made no attempt to escape. Perhaps she smelt a rat. She may have prospected before, and have recognized in her present environment all the signs of a rat mine. At any rate, with gentle patience and a look of wisdom, she sat and blinked and occasionally licked a paw and rubbed her ears, while the partners discussed her.

"She is to be in fourth," said Oyama San. "We shall divide her. Hayashi San shall have the left front leg, and the fourth that appears to that; Otsu San shall have the right front leg, and the fourth that appears to that; Omatsu San shall have the left hind leg, with the appropriate fourth; and as for unworthy me, I will be honored by accepting the right hind leg, and the remaining fourth."

"And the tail?" asked Hayashi San. "Does no one have the tail?"

"O yes," replied Oyama San. "The tail is for the cat herself, the tail and the head, with both ears."

Then the cat was given formal possession of the post of rat catcher in the warehouse. She caught many rats.

GIVEN FORMAL POSSESSION.

and became so happy that she grew fat. Then she broke a leg. As Hayashi had it, it was Oyama's leg that suffered. The accident distressed Oyama San. He mourned for his injured limb, and would have dressed in white, which is the mourning color in Japan, but his partners objected. Then, though he did not dress himself in white, he dressed the cat's leg in a soft bandage, and put oil on it to aid the healing.

All was going well with the cat, and Oyama San would soon have his leg on the ground again, when the cat gave a night lamp, and the leg caught fire. The lamp was in what might be the porter's lodge of the warehouse.

With a terrifying cow-wow-wow, the cat ran from the lodge, to the warehouse, and that was soon in flames. It was a total loss, and meant something like ruin for the four partners.

Then Hayashi San, Otsu San and Omatsu San met and decided to sue Oyama San. He had vexed them by his consciousness; it was he who had persuaded them to buy the cat. Had it not been for him they would not have thought of having a cat about, and then, it was his leg that had set their precious treasure house on fire, causing all the loss. Yes, Oyama San had led them into a trap.

The three partners would go before the great Judge Ippai Nibhi in Nagoya and state their case. Without doubt he would give them justice.

The next day they went past the golden dolphins into Nagoya, and, knowing themselves low before Ippai Nibhi, told him their tale of woe. Then Ippai Nibhi sent for Oyama San, who questioned him as to the tale. He said he had told the honorable Ippai Nibhi, and Oyama San, with his bowhead against the floor. "The story is even as you have heard it."

"Then," said Ippai Nibhi sitting in his robes of state upon a silken cushion on a platform covered with the finest matting, "Hayashi San, and Omatsu San, and Otsu San, shall enter you to you one-third of your losses due to the burning of the warehouse; for their legs carried the burning leg to the warehouse, and their legs are the cause of the loss."

The three paid.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1932: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump on my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two, fifty-cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to all suffering humanity. Sold by Cook & Higgins."

WHY BUCK'S HOT BLAST

Heater Will Actually Pay For Itself.

Because Buck's Hot Blast will produce as much heat and as satisfactory a fire in every way, by using the cheapest dollar and a quarter coal, slack or screenings, as other heaters in which you must use high grade soft coal or hard coal. You can see at a glance how soon this saving in fuel will make a Buck's Hot Blast actually pay for itself. It is not the first cost of stove that counts so much, it is what you have to pay to feed it, in coal.

This is the "Buck's Stove."

FRENCH BOARDING SCHOOL

American Girls Have Little Conception of Strict Rule Enforced in These Institutions.

American girls have no conception of the restrictions of a French boarding school, says Jeanne Constantine, of Grand Housekeeping. True, many of them are sent there to be educated but generally to a cosmopolitan school where rules are few, the programme lighter and teachers more lenient; in a word, a school made to order for foreigners! The big girls sleep in dormitories, eight or ten little beds, separated by white curtains; the little girls in a room with a teacher. At seven, when the bell rings, they all have to get up and air their beds, then they go to the lavatory, where they all wash together, each one having her own basin and little drawer for brush and comb. The little ones go to a teacher to have their hair combed and braided. Then back to the dormitory, where they make up their beds. Clothes are kept upstairs, a servant bringing down what the pupil needs. So having nowhere to hide precious treasures, they generally are tucked away safely under one's bolster. Another bell, and each girl passes by a teacher, who examines her nails, sees that no buttons are missing from her shoes, etc. Then follow prayers in the little chapel. Meanwhile a teacher looks over the beds, and if any is found badly made, everything is taken off and the pupil is sent back to make it over again. From prayers the girls go down to breakfast: a bowl of cafe au lait with bread and butter. Directly after breakfast school begins, lasting till 12, with recess of 20 minutes at 10:30. The school-rooms are unattractive, sometimes too cold or too warm. For schools, like all public buildings, railroads, etc., are heated the first of November and are stopped the first of April regardless of the thermometer. In the old-fashioned provincial boarding school an interesting way. The teachers are paid very little, they come generally from the same little town or a neighboring one, have seen nothing of the world, and teach as they have been taught.

BARNACLES HELPED JAPS.

Reason Why Russians Were Defeated on Water May Be Partly Laid, to False Bottoms.

One of the contributory causes to the defeat of the Russian fleet was the impossibility of going into dry dock after the passage of the tropical waters. The plentiful marine growths, both animal and vegetable, of the warm waters near the equator attach themselves to a ship's bottom in the course of a few weeks and the ship loses both speed and dirigibility. When a British ship on the West India station was broken up a few years ago more than 80 tons of barnacles were removed from her bottom, while an American frigate of only 800 tons register had 30 car loads of barnacles scraped from her bottom after a stay of but eight months in the warm latitudes. During the passage of the Red sea and the Indian ocean it is probable that the Russian fleet picked up enough marine growth to reduce its speed by at least one-fourth, while a ship with a foul bottom is much less quick in answering the helm.

It is not probable that the result would have been other than it was in any event, but had the fleet got into action with clean bottoms the Japanese loss would have been far greater.

As Others See Us.

"They say," remarked the very young man, "that ignorance is bliss, yet I am not altogether happy."

"That," rejoined the sage of Sagville, "may be due to the fact that you've just enough sense to know what a chump you are."

as Ethel Durrell.

As the result of the bursting of a water main in one of Chicago's principal lives, and property to the amount of $150,000 was destroyed.

year it is for Thursday Nov. 23, a week earlier than the regular Thanksgiving Day on Nov. 30.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by

The last week of the campaign
finds the Ring ticket on the run.
From now on it will be altogether a defensive fight with them. The Democrats are aggressive, united and confident of victory. The pollution of the county shows a small Republican majority, but the changes in the colored vote alone will overcome this majority. Several hundred white Republicans have declared their purpose to vote against the Ring and altogether the Ring ticket is in a demoralized state. The possession of an enormous campaign fund by the Republicans—just how many thousands of dollars is not definitely known—is the sole source of strength now left to them. There is already a good deal of speculation
as to the price that will be fixed by the Ring for votes on November 7th.
But whether the price be fixed at $2, $5 or $10 it is going to be a hard matter to round up enough of the purchasable votes to save the day.
The indications all point to a sweeping defeat for the Republican Ring,
which has been securely entrenched
in the court house for the last five years.

The workers for the ring ticket
continue to direct their assaults upon Judge Cansler, the head of the Democratic ticket. The latest story to be circulated is that the Democrats of the South Christian districts will not support Judge Cansler. We have for some time been carefully investigating this very point and there is no truth in this statement.
Democrats almost to a man will vote for Judge Cansler along with the rest of the ticket and the fact that he will get many Republican votes that vote only for him, will make him perhaps the strongest man on the Democratic ticket. Many of the best posted politicians in the county believe that Cansler will lead the ticket. At any rate, if the Republicans are nursing the delusion that the Democrats are not going to support him, they will be woefully mistaken.

SOUTHERN TOUR ENDS.

President Has Narrow Es-

COLLISION IN RIVER.

Returning to Washington
By Ocean Voyage.

New Orleans, Oct. 28.—After a narrow escape from losing his life in an early morning collision in which the light house tender Magnolia, on which he was traveling, was so much damaged that he had to abandon her, President Roosevelt safely boarded the revenue cutter Iviss which carried him down the Mississippi to the armored cruiser West Virginia.

Neither the President nor any member of his party was injured in the accident. At 9:40 the president went aboard the West Virginia the vessel firing the presidential salute, twenty-one guns. As soon as the president was on board the West Virginia weighed anchor and sailed, and the president is now on the Gulf of Mexico, en route to Washington.

Died of Pneumonia.

Little James Garland, the little six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs.
George T. Littlefield, who lives on the Greenville road, this side of the quarry, died Sunday of pneumonia, after an illness of ten days. He was buried yesterday afternoon in Hopewell.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Honey Moon," the most sparkling and delightful gem of comedy ever constructed, will be presented at Holland's opera house
to-night by Miss Charlotte Burnett,
the dainty comedienne and a carefully selected cast of well known and recognized artists.

The play is for the benefit of the local order of Elks, and the audience should, and doubtless will be, a very large one. The advance sale of seats is very large.

In speaking of "The Honey-Moon,"
the noted lawyer, John A. Chisolm, who is known as art connoisseur and critic, remarked when he saw "The Honey-Moon" in New York: "It is the brightest, most amusing play staged here in many a day, but a honey-moon like that in these days
would surely lead to a divorce court,
and not eternal bliss."

Charlotte Burnett is particularly suited to play the distinguished heroine Juliana; she has the arch-ness, the coquetry, the dancing eyes and saucy curls and the dainty form to portray the lighter scenes. She shows her high ability also as an emotional actress in the pathetic scenes, which she plays with simple sincerity and girlish loveliness that endears her at once to every individual in the audience.

The scenery and costumes are gorgeous neither money or effort being spared to make this the most beautiful production leaving New York.

Cinderella Coming.

Miss Vivian Forrest, who made such a hit opposite the prima donna
in the Beggar Prince and other musical comedy companies during the St. Louis world's fair, is to have the second part in "Cinderella" with
the Jule Foreman Musical Comedy
Company. Manager Alley has surrounded Miss Foreman with an exceptional cast of principals, including Fred Godding, the clever comic opera comedian, and a chorus of excellent voices possessed by the pretty girls, and critics have classed his aggregation as one of the most appropriately and evenly selected companies in the musical comedy field.
The Jule Foreman Musical Comedy
Company will appear at Holland's opera house Nov. 1 and 2, with a matinee Thursday.

Barlow & Wilson's Minstrels.

Barlow & Wilson's Minstrels hold forth at Holland's opera house, Saturday night, Nov. 4. The date is auspicious and the company well-known. Since the days of old, when four of the best end 'men in the United States formed a trust on minstrelsy, everything goes in the first rank that has Barlow, Wilson, Primrose or West's name to it.
There are real sane-looking people who say they do not like grand opera, but nobody is willing to declare his dislike to a good minstrel show.

John's Auto.

John Y. Owley and Miss Rust, of Hopkinsville, were in the city Monday. Mr. Owley is fast becoming an expert with his auto. He ran from this place to Hopkinsville, by way of Casky, in just twenty-four minutes.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs. The kidneys filter and purify the blood—do their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty. If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. It is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle sent to you by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Birmingham, N. Y., on every bottle.

CIRCUIT COURT ADJOURNS.

Fall Term Came to a Close Last Friday Afternoon.

THREE FOR THE PEN. Convicted Men Will Be Taken to Eddyville Today.

The fall term of the Christian circuit court came to a close last Friday afternoon. Before adjournment the two men given terms in the penitentiary for the first time and they will probably be taken to Eddyville today. They are George Griffin, white, and Porter Dabney, colored. Dabney was convicted of the theft of a suit of clothes and sentenced to the year at hard labor. Griffin, who was charged with the murder of Henry Warner, near Fruit Hill, was convicted of manslaughter and his punishment fixed by the jury at confinement in the penitentiary for a period of ten years.

The third man is Jim Holloway, the old negro who was given eight years at the June term for the killing of Andrew Bradshaw, at old Belleville, in 1879. An appeal was granted Holloway, but the time for filing the necessary papers in order to take it before the appellate court expired, and he will serve his sentence. Holloway is nearly sixty years old now, but when the trouble occurred he was only about thirty-one.

FIREBUG GETS IN HIS WORK.

The Geo. O. Thompson Old Homestead Totally Destroyed.

LOSSES VERY HEAVY. I. M. Wells, a Grocer, Suffered From Damage By Water.

The long rest of the Fire Department was broken Saturday night by two demands on their services.

The first run was to the grocery store of I. M. Wells, on Virginia, between 5th and 6th streets. The fire was extinguished before much damage was done, but Mr. Wells' stock of goods was greatly damaged by water.

The fire was discovered and the alarm turned in at 11:25. When the department reached the scene a counter only had burned, but in only a few minutes more the whole building would have burned. This is the fourth or fifth fire that has occurred in the Hord block, but the first in the Southern room, which was long occupied by Mr. Julian G. Hord, the owner of the block. The fire is supposed to have been started by rats under one of the counters, though there were no matches kept under it. We learn that the stock was worth $500, or a little over that amount. The insurance carried by Mr. Wells will probably fully cover his loss. The damage to the building was light.

Another Big Fire.

At 8 o'clock an alarm was turned in from the Geo. O. Thompson homestead on East Seventh street, occupied by Mr. Z. T. Hazelp. The department promptly responded to the call, but was unable to save the building. The hose was attached to the fire plug, but owing to the fact that there is not enough pressure at the top of the hill on East Seventh street to throw a stream but a short distance, the building burned to the ground.

Mr. Hazelp, with the assistance of the crowd that had gathered, saved nearly all his household effects, which were on the first floor.

Mr. Ben W. Harned occupied the second floor of the building, but as there was no one at home, everything was destroyed.

The fire, from some unknown cause, started on the second floor, and Mr. Hazelp's family were aroused from their sleep by the smoke that filled the rooms. At once they realized that the house was on fire, and hastily dressing, proceeded to carry out what articles they could, after turning in the alarm. Neighbors soon gathered and aided them until the arrival of the fire department.

Mr. Hazelp had the building insured for $2,500, but this will hardly cover his loss, as the house was a very large one. Mr. Harned, we learn, had no insurance.

Owing to the hour at which the fire occurred, there were comparatively few people on the ground, as the wild cat whistle was not blown, steam not being required at the mills of the Forbes Mfg. Co. Saturday night and Sunday morning. The alarm bell at the fire department has not been used since the department moved into its new quarters last summer. For some cause the apparatus for ringing the bell has not yet been attached. The ringing of the gong by the drivers of the horse wagons on Saturday and Sunday nights is the only means of notifying the citizens of the breaking out of a fire. Of course the firemen can do more efficient service in the absence of a crowd, but a building can often be saved by people before the fire department can possibly reach the scene.

The burning of the Thompson homestead removes another of the old landmarks of the city. It was a large building, and at the time it was built was considered one of the finest in the city. This was the second big fire since the city did away with the old steam engine and adopted the pressure system at the completion of the water works about 15 years ago. The residence of Mr. Frank Waller, adjoining the Thompson property, burned to the ground on January 24th, 1904. Mr. Waller says that when the water was turned on his building the water merely ran out of the nozzle, as the property's several feet higher than the base of the water tower.

STILL ANOTHER BIG SCHEME

Electric Line Projected From Hopkinsville to Clarksville.

GOOD INVESTMENT. Street Car Question Still Under Consideration.

Mr. C. N. Wilson, of Chicago, was in the city Friday. Mr. Wilson is president of the American Engineering Co. He was seen at Hotel Latham Saturday night, and stated that he had made an overland trip from here to Clarksville "just to see how the land lays." He had been invited here by a party with the view of getting him interested in a projected electric line from here to the coal fields. Mr. Wilson thinks we have the finest country in the world and was amazed at the great improvements going on. He seemed to think that the people of our city are not conscious of the great opportunities within their grasp.

He was asked about an electric line from here to Clarksville, which has been so often spoken of, and he gave it as his opinion that it would be a paying investment—in fact, he seemed deeply impressed with the absolute need of it. Before leaving the city he was spoken to about the proposed street railway, and he expressed the opinion that with the great amount of traffic between here and the asylum, a company could not fail of making money by putting in the plant.

Mr. Wilson is not at the head of a company of capitalists who furnish money for enterprises, but his company makes surveys, furnishes specifications and makes contracts. This, of course, brings them in contact with men of large capital, and enables them to get capitalists interested.

Mr. John Bell, who owns the street railway franchises, says that next week a representative of the company with whom he has been in correspondence will be here to look over the field, and it is probable that in a few days he will be able to give out something definite as to what he will do with his franchise. The franchise was sold on Sept. 16th, and under the terms of the sale Mr. Bell will give ninety days to begin work or forfeit his privilege.

Mr. Wilson seemed to think that if our people will use their efforts it ought to be no trouble to get capitalists interested and build the line from here to Clarksville.

25 YEARS OF AGONY ENDED

Boston Business Man Cured By Cuticura of Awful Humors Covering Head, Neck, and Shoulders After Hospital and Doctors Failed.

Under date of September 9, 1904, Mr. S. P. Keyes, a well-known business man of No. 149 Congress Street, Boston, Mass., says: "Cuticura did wonders for me. For twenty-five years I suffered agony from a terrible humor, completely covering my head, neck, and shoulders, discharging matter of such offensive nature to sight and smell, that to my friends, and even to my wife, I became an object of dread. At large expense I consulted the most able doctors far and near. Their treatment was of no avail, nor was this side of the grave. I heard of some one who had been cured by Cuticura, and thought that a trial could do no harm. In a surprisingly short time I was completely cured."

CUTICURA—THE SET, $1.

Complete Treatment for Every Humour from Pimples to Scrofula. Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle; dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely to play itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal; and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent Pills to cool and cleanse the blood. A single set is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disgusting skin, scalp, and blood humors, with loss of hair, when all else fails.
